

The Spring 2024 in practice event hosted jointly by IAFA and CIMA was held on the 10th May 2024. The webinar was titled "Skillsets for the Modern Accountant".

In a world where the role of the modern day accountant is constantly changing, our panel discussed employers' ongoing expectations and requirements from their accountancy staff. CIMA's response to this was explored, as they shared insights on the uniqueness of the current CIMA syllabus by outlining the development of the new learning delivery method FLP, and the alignment within the CIMA Competency framework, in response to employers' requirements for 2024, and into the future.

Our expert panel of guest speakers, included;

- Ciaran Phelan | Director | CIMA Ireland
- Fiona Arnold | Student Progression Manager | CIMA Ireland
- Claire Kearns, ACMA, CGMA | Manager, Finance Consulting | EY Belfast
- Peter Mulligan, ACMA, CGMA | Senior Finance & Performance Consultant | Deloitte Consulting

The seminar was an excellent event and provided interesting insights and debate.
